

Putnam County Board of Health

History of Board of Health

In the late nineteenth century, the Ohio government required any city or village with a population of more than five hundred people to establish a local board of health. This board would monitor the community's health conditions. A local health officer was to inspect privies, register births and deaths, and quarantine people suffering from infectious diseases, among other duties. The Putnam County Board of Health's first meeting was January 12, 1920. Dr. C.W. Fogle was the Board of Health's first president. Other members of the first Board included B.A. Unverferth, Dr. C.E. Bird, Joseph H. Schuerman, and Dr. J.D. Watterson.

Fast forward to today, the Putnam County Health Department, governed by the Putnam County Board Health, continues to provide services to protect and promote the health of the community by preventing the spread of disease, protecting the environment and promoting healthy lifestyles.

Who selects the Board of Health?

The Putnam County District Advisory Council, made up of the chairman of each township, mayors of each village, and a county commissioner, appoint the Putnam County Board of Health members, who serve for five-year terms. The District Advisory Council meets on the first Monday of March each year to appoint a Board of Health member. The District Licensing Council, made up of representatives of health department licensees (food facilities, pools, campgrounds, body art), recommends a member of the licensed facilities for a position on the board.

The Board of Health must have the following represented:

- One physician
- One member appointed from the District Licensing Council
- Three at-large members

The health department's annual report is provided and an update of health department activities is presented at District Advisory Council meeting in March each year.

Responsibilities of the Board of Health

State law requires the board to report and take measures to control disease, enforce state public health laws and promote health and well-being within the health district. The board is also responsible for the department's budget and hiring a health commissioner. The Board of Health members must earn two hours of continuing education each year.
